DISCOVER | LEAD | STEWARD

Located just 20 miles east of Minneapolis and St. Paul, the diverse wildlife and ecosystems present at Camp St. Croix provide unique opportunities to learn about the environment, build teamwork, enhance self-confidence and provide hands-on experiences with nature.

Surrounded by pine-covered bluffs overlooking the beautiful St. Croix River Valley, you'll find the inspiration you need as you and your group enjoys 400 acres of woods, prairies and trails.

Environmental Education

Reinforce your present curriculum through hands on investigation of key environmental concepts. The Outdoor Education Program is designed to promote and develop environmental responsibility, awareness and stewardship through academic, social, community and outdoor education experiences. Here, students explore our 400-acres as they investigate key environmental concepts through our study sessions.

We pride ourselves with small group sizes (12-15 students), add in some Team Building activities to teach conflict-resolution skills and enhance self-esteem while developing leadership potential in a fun atmosphere.

Our curriculum directly supports the Minnesota Graduation Standards and the Wisconsin Academic Standards.

"Maple Syrup Camp has become as much a family tradition as trick or treating, or putting up the Christmas tree. My kids and I look forward to it every year. We have learned so much, made incredible connections with the camp, the staff, and other participants. I am continually amazed at the amount and quality of programming for the money. It can't be beat!!" – Homeschool Family Participant
